Seth Ferranti vs. The System

Seth Ferranti is 35-years-old and has been in prison for the last 14 years. By the time he is released, he will have spent more than half his life behind bars. Seth was a first-time, non-violent offender when he was convicted on drug charges that carried a mandatory minimum sentence of 25 years under federal sentencing guidelines. A prisoner of the war on drugs, Seth has chosen to write, publishing Prison Stories, a fictional composite sketch of life behind bars. With his book, his voice, his wife Diane and a network of people devoted to the cause, Seth has energized the movement to educate mainstream America about the antiquated, excessive penalties being imposed every day for nonviolent crimes. He is also one of our readers, so Seth, if you're reading this, you've got our support and great admiration.
